

Notes about authors

Krzysztof Czyżak – PhD student at the School of Languages and Literatures of Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. His main area of interests are science fiction movies, media studies and animation series. ORCID 0000-0001-8803-2223.

Robert Dudziński – Doctor of Humanities working at the Department of Theory of Culture and Performing Arts at the Institute of Polish Philology at the University of Wrocław. In 2019, he defended his doctoral dissertation on Polish popular literature of the 1950s. He is the author of the monograph Produkcje sensacyjno-kryminalne Telewizji Polskiej 1965–1989, Konwencje – motywy – konteksty [Action and Crime Story Productions by State Broadcaster Telewizja Polska in the years 1965–1989. Conventions – Motives – Contexts]; and he is co-author of Leksykon (mniej znanych) filmów wampirycznych [The Lexicon of (Lesser Known) Vampire Films]. His research interests include the history of Polish popular literature, the history of Polish film, and the history and theory of the genre cinema. ORCID 0000-0002-8387-4314

Grażyna Gajewska – holds a postdoctoral degree in Literature Studies from Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań (Poland). Her scholarly work focuses on science fiction prose and films analyzed from the theoretical standpoints of the posthuman, transhuman, anthropology of cyborgs, and anthropology of things. ORCID 0000-0001-5293-6757.

Mariusz Guzek – professor at the Institute of Cultural Science in Kazimierz Wielki University in Bydgoszcz. He works on Area Studies (focusing on the film culture of Bydgoszcz), the story of Polish cinematography during the First World War and the years following the restoration of Poland's sovereignty, and the Cinema of Czechoslovakia and the Czech Republic. He is currently working on a monograph on Czech myths in the movies. He is the author of the books: Filmowa Bydgoszcz 1896–1939 [Filmic Bydgoszcz 1896–1939] (2004) and Co wspólnego z wojną ma kinematograf. Kultura filmowa na ziemiach polskich 1914–1918 [What do War and Cinematography Have in Common? Film Culture on Polish lands 1914–1918] (2014). Co-author of the elaboration Wojna i wojskowość w twórczości oraz adaptacjach powieści Bolesława Prusa [War and Military Science in the Works and Adaptations of the Novels of Bolesław Prus] (2016) and Sąsiedzi – film o bydgoskim wrześniu 1939 r. [Neighbors – a Movie about Bydgoszcz in September 1939] (2019). He also co-edited a volume of Kino polskie wobec II wojny światowej [Cinema of Poland and the Second World War] (2011) and Film polski wobec niepodległości [Polish Film and Independence] (2020). He has been published in “Przegląd Historyczny”, “Historyka”, “Czas Kultury”, “Przegląd Zachodniopomorski”, “Studia Językoznawcze”, “Kwartalnik Filmowy”, and “Przestrzenie Teorii”. ORCID 0000-0002-2407-4499.

Agnieszka Kamrowska – PhD., is an adjunct in the Media Art Institute at the Pedagogical University of Cracow. She graduated with a degree in film studies from the Faculty of Management and Social Communication at the Jagiellonian University. Her Ph.D. thesis subject was cyberpunk in Eastern and Western cinema. She researches far-eastern cinematographies and is the editor of “Authors of Asian Cinema” book series. She is the author of many texts about anime and contemporary filmmakers. ORCID 0000-0001-9474-9271.

Konrad Klejsa – PhD is a Professor in the University of Łódź's Department of Film and Audio-Visual Media. The key field of his research is post-1945 European film history. He recently co-edited volumes on film education and a collection on Polish-German film relationships. His current research centres on patterns of film distribution and exhibition in the People's Republic of Poland. ORCID 0000-0002-6259-9173

Marcin Kowalczyk – Ph.D., Kazimierz Wielki University in Bydgoszcz, Poland, cultural studies. He focuses on post-war culture, in particular, socialist realism, as well as popular culture, including the issues related to science fiction film and literature and martial arts studies. He is the author of the monograph Tyrmand karnawałowy (2008) and articles published in, among others, in "Pamiętnik Literacki", "Kultura Popularna", "Przegląd Humanistyczny", and "Przestrzenie Teorii". Currently, he works on issues related to the reception of eastern martial arts in popular culture. ORCID 0000-0002-2033-445X.

Kamil Lipiński – assistant professor in the Chair of Cultural and Media Studies at the University of Białystok. He holds his PhD in Philosophy (Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań) with additional background in Cultural Studies and Social Communication. Co-Chair of NECS Film-Philosophy Work Group. Lipiński a Runner-up in 2019 Postgraduate Essay Prize awarded by Postcolonial Studies Association/ Journal of Postcolonial Writing. ORCID 0000-0001-5109-3698.

Katarzyna Lisiecka – literary scholar, teatrologist, operologist, employed as a university professor at the Opera and Theatre Department of Faculty of Polish Philology at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań, member of Centre for Research on Musical Theatre at Adam Mickiewicz University. She is the author of the monograph Fuzja sztuk i horyzontów. Arystotelesowski paradygmat opery (2019, postdoc.) and numerous studies dedicated to matters of musical theatre and audio-visual arts dramaturgy, co-editor of several joint monographs. Her research revolves around the history and aesthetics of the opera, relationships and correspondence of the arts and relations between the aesthetic and ideational layer in the literaric-musical artwork, as well as theatre and cinema. She is fascinated by the strong and vital presence of dramatic-musical masterpieces from centuries ago in modern culture, and by the deep effect of the old aesthetic influences on broadly-defined Western art and culture. ORCID 0000-0001-9912-406X.

Krzysztof Loska – Professor of Human Sciences at Jagiellonian University in Kraków. He is the vice-president of Polish Society for Film and Media Studies, vice-president of The Study of Art Committee at the Polish Academy of Sciences, He has written 150 papers and dissertations on media, popular culture, film history and Japanese cinema published in various journals ("Kwartalnik Filmowy", "Studia Filmoznawcze", "Przegląd Kulturoznawczy", "Ekran", "Kultura Współczesna", "Ethos") and collective works. He has published twelve books (in Polish), e.g. Dziedzictwo McLuhana – między nowoczesnością a ponowoczesnością [McLuhan's Legacy. Between Modern and Postmodern] (2001), Poetyka filmu japońskiego [Poetics of Japanese Cinema] (2009), Kenji Mizoguchiego i wyobraźnia melodramatyczna [Kenji Mizoguchi and the Melodramatic Imagination] (2011), New Japanese Cinema (2013), Mistrzowie kina japońskiego [Masters of Japanese Film] (2015) and Postkolonialna Europa: etnoobrazy współczesnego kina [Postcolonial Europe: Ethnoscapes of Contemporary Cinema] (2016). ORCID 0000-0003-4078-798X.

Artur Majer – an assistant professor at the Film Art Organization Department and the Institute of Arts Studies in Lodz Film School. He's research interests are focused on Polish popular cinema, film analysis, and above all film production culture and production studies, i.e. research on the cinematography market. He is a member of the Polish Communication Association, the Writers' Club of the Polish Filmmakers Association and the Polish Society for Film and Media Studies. ORCID 0000-0003-4722-0513.

Mariola Marczak – associate professor, filmologist carrying out research work in film and media studies, editor-in-chief of the scholarly journal "Media-Culture-Social Communication". She has published books and articles on religious and metaphysical movies, as well as on contemporary Polish cinema, including the monograph on Krzysztof Zanussi [Inquietude and Longing. The Cinema Towards Values] and Poetyka filmu religijnego [Poetics of the Religious Films]; and she edited the monograph Film, telewizja i sztuki wizualne w dobie nowych mediów [Film, Television and Visual Arts in the New Media Era]. Her articles were published in such scholarly journals as “Studia Filmoznawcze”, “Ethos, Studia Religioznawcze”, and “Journal of Religion & Film”. She is a member of the Polish Society for Film and Media Studies and of SIGNIS (World Catholic Association for Communication), on behalf of which she has served on the ecumenical juries of film festivals (Warsaw Film Festival, 2016; Jameson Cinefest Miskolc, 2018; Locarno Film Festival, 2019). Her projects focus on exploring the spheres of film theology and film genres, and on Polish cinema perceived through the prism of cultural anthropology. She is interested in the axiology of visual arts as well. Her current projects focus on communicating social, ethical and religious issues through visual arts and media. ORCID 0000-0002-5970-6492.

Małgorzata Mączko – PhD Student at the JU Doctoral School in the Humanities, alumna of Film and New Media Studies at Jagiellonian University. Her research focuses on the problem of minority representation in contemporary cinema. ORCID 0000-0002-9226-8906.

Maciej Peplinski – holds a Master’s degree in film studies from the Freie Universität Berlin. He is currently in his fifth year of his PhD in film studies at the Jagiellonian University in Kraków, Poland. Since October 2017, he has been working as a researcher at the Leibniz Institute for the History and Culture of Eastern Europe (GWZO) in Leipzig. His research project explores the development of the science fiction film genre in Eastern Europe from 1945 to 1989. His doctoral research focuses on the evolution and failure of the genre of utopische Filme in the German Democratic Republic. He has published on German cinema, science fiction, Eastern European genre film, cinephilia, slow cinema and contemporary film-philosophy. ORCID 0000-0002-2482-5029.

Maciej Pietrzak – scholar of film studies, assistant professor in the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts at Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań. His research interests are focused primarily on manifestations of cultural memory in film. Author of publications devoted to cinematic depictions of the events of March 1968 and the contemporary Israeli cinema. ORCID 0000-0001-7301-425X.

Joanna Pigulak – PhD; assistant professor at Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań. Her research interests include multifarious, intermedial and transmedial interrelations between films and video games. She examines, among others, the use of forms of audiovisual cinematic means of expression in video games as well as the issue of the players’ immersion. She authored a number of articles in games studies, film studies and transmedial narratology. ORCID 0000-0002-1345-3979.

Bolesław Raciński – assistant professor at the Faculty of ‘Artes Liberales’, University of Warsaw, director of the ‘In Search of Authenticity. Exploring Problematic Relationships Between Latin American Filmmakers and European Film Funds’ research project, funded by Polish National Science Centre. His research interests focus on Latin American cinemas, small film industries and cryptic celluloid curiosities. ORCID 0000-0002-1908-9039.

Patrycja Rojek – PhD, assistant professor at the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts of the University of Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań, Poland. She is a film studies scholar and she is academically interested in how myth functions in film, American cinema and the aesthetics of film image. In 2018, she defended her doctoral thesis, Bohater mityczny w filmach

Christophera Nolana [A Mythical Hero in Christopher Nolan's Films]. ORCID 0000-0003-4301-080X.

Katarzyna Taras – graduated from Nicolaus Copernicus University in Toruń in 1997. She is a Professor of Polish National Filmschool in Lodz and a film critic. Her academic interests could be described in three points: the borderlines of film and literature, the latest Polish film, and the art of cinematography. She wrote three books: Witkacy i film [Witkacy and Film] (2005) Egoista czy Edi? Bohaterowie najnowszych polskich filmów [An Egoist or Edi? The Characters of the Latest Polish Films – the Reconnaissance] (2007), and Frustraci. Bohaterowie filmowi i literaccy wobec polskiej rzeczywistości po 1989 roku [Frustrated People. Film and Literature Characters in the Face of Polish Reality after 1989] (2012). ORCID 0000-0003-1500-5595.

Vesi Vuković – is currently a PhD candidate in Film Studies and Visual Culture at the University of Antwerp, Belgium, under the guidance of professor Philippe Meers. She is a member of ViDi (Visual and Digital Cultures Research Center) and A* Antwerp Gender and Sexuality Studies Network at the University of Antwerp. She attained her Master of Arts at Kyoto University of Arts and Design, Japan, and her Bachelor of Arts at the Academy of Arts Banja Luka, BiH. Her current research focuses on ex-Yugoslavian cinema and its representation of women. ORCID 0000-0003-4216-8517.

Adrianna Woroch – PhD student at the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts of Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznan. She is the author of the 2019 book – Kicz i piękno w twórczości Paola Sorrentina na przykładzie dzieł: "Wielkie piękno", "Młody papież", "Wszystkie odloty Cheyenne'a" oraz "Młodość" [Kitsch and beauty in the works of Paolo Sorrentino with the examples of: 'The Great Beauty', 'The Young Pope', 'This Must Be the Place' and 'Youth']. She is interested in, among others: contemporary Middle Eastern cinema and auto-reflexivity in film, as well as the relationships between film and other media. The author is currently working on a dissertation concerning disillusionive techniques in contemporary cinema. ORCID 0000-0003-4237-3756.