

Notes about authors

Jan Biedny – philosophy and film studies student at Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań. His research interests on the one hand focus on the philosophy of science, especially on identifying non-scientific determinants of science and on the analysis of contemporary movements that deny science. He is also interested in contemporary artistic cinema, mainly European, and the film theory, especially theory-oriented towards the philosophical understanding of cinema. ORCID 0000-0001-6901-4273.

Janusz Bohdziewicz – doctor of humanities, literary scholar, media and culture theorist at Pomeranian University in Słupsk, Institute of Philology. Author of the book The Beauty of the Relevance. Television of being on the threshold of time (2014). Awarded the Award of the Director of the National Center for Culture. He has published in „Konteksty”, „Kwartalnik Filmowy”, „Panoptikum”. He is particularly interested in post-secular thought and the theory of „electracy”. ORCID 0000-0002-5148-3706.

Justyna Czaja – Professor at the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts at Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań. She is the author of the monographs Polish History in Comics Frames (2010), Come and See. Classics of Cinema (2013) and The Myth on Screen. Warsaw Uprising in Polish Feature Films (2018), which was awarded by the Polish Society for Film and Media Studies. Her research interests are focused primarily on popular culture, comics and Russian cinema. ORCID 0000-0001-8939-6598

Adam Domalewski – graduate of film and theater studies, Doctor of Arts, and Assistant Professor at the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts at Adam Mickiewicz University. He is interested in film and religion studies, and European diasporic cinema in the twenty-first century. He has published papers in a number of journals, including “Ekphrasis – Images, Cinema, Theory, Media”, “Kwartalnik Filmowy”, “Images”, and “Ekran”. ORCID 0000-0002-4313-5146.

Michał Dondzik – a film expert, currently preparing the PhD thesis In the frame and beyond. Feature films by Grzegorz Królikiewicz. He is interested in Polish cinema and documentary film. He has published in „Film Quarterly”, „Pleographies”, „Panoptikum” and collective volumes. He is the author of books about Leszek Wronko. Sound of Polish Film (2013) and Elementary of Educational Film Studio (2018; with K. Jajko and E. Sowiński). ORCID 0000-0002-6661-7420.

Tomasz Klys – Professor of film studies at the University of Łódź, film theorist and historian. His research interests include theory of film’s diegesis, narratology, German cinema in the Weimar Republic and the Third Reich, French Impressionist Film, auteurs of French cinema: Abel Gance, Robert Bresson, Jacques Rivette, Eric Rohmer. Books: Film fikcji i jego dominancy (1999), Dekada doktora Mabuse (2006), Od Mabusego do Goebbelsa (2013). Co-author of the text-book Kino bez tajemnic (2009). ORCID 0000-0001-7443-9479.

Iwona Kolasińska-Pasterczyk – PhD of Humanities, prof. at the Jagiellonian University. She graduated in Polish philology and film studies. She obtained her doctorate in 1995 (dissertation about the viewer in horror) and habilitation in 2008 (book about Buñuel). In 1995–1997, she worked at the Université de Bourgogne in Dijon, France. She has published the books: Woman and Demons. On the viewer of a horror film (2003) [1.X. 2004 Individual Award of the Minister of National Education and Sport] and Luis Buñuel’s Hell. Around the problems of the sacred and the profane (2007) [JM Rector’s Award]. Co-editor (next to Eugeniusz Wilk) of the book New audiovisuality – a new paradigm of culture? (2008). She is currently working on a book on the relationship between film and theology. ORCID 0000-0001-5242-281X.

Krzysztof Kopczyński – PhD, Professor at the University of Warsaw, Institute of Applied Polish Studies. Main interests: Polish film, documentary film, Romanticism, philosophy of film, film and media literacy. Award-winning documentary filmmaker and producer. Member of the European Film Academy and the Polish Film Academy. ORCID 0000-0002-6702-6374.

Natasza Korczarowska – Professor at the Department of Film and Audiovisual Media, Institute of Contemporary Culture, University of Lodz. She specializes in the history of Polish film, contemporary American and British cinema, and the problems of historiography. She published the books: Ojczyzny prywatne [Private Homelands] (2007) and Inne spojrzenie [Another Way] (2013) – the latter devoted to the images of history in the Polish feature film after 1965. Since 2008, she has been cooperating with the Polish Film Institute and the National Film. ORCID: 0000-0003-3130-128X.

Krzysztof Kornacki – Dr. Hab. Film expert, employee of the Institute of Cultural Research of the University of Gdańsk. Specialises in the history of Polish cinema. Author of the books Kino polskie wobec katolicyzmu 1945–1970 (nominated for the Bolesława Michałka award), „Popiół i diament” Andrzeja Wajdy („Pióro Fredry” for Book of the Year 2011); co-edited the volumes Poszukiwanie i degradowanie sacrum w kinie (2002) oraz Sacrum w kinie. Dekadę później (2013). ORCID 0000-0002-1246-2275.

Justyna Machaj – bachelor's degree graduate in Theatre Studies and Film Studies, currently studying for a master's degree in Film Studies and The Art of Writing at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznan. City of Poznan Artistic Scholarship holder in 2019 and a graduate of the STA Acting Studio in Poznań. Critical texts writer for Dialog, Czas Kultury and Teatralia.

A student at the Faculty of Polish and Classical Philology at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznan. ORCID 0000-0001-6124-3565.

Anna M. Piskorska – scholar of film & theatre studies, alumna of interdepartmental studies (philosophy, religious studies, cultural studies); PhD student at the Institute of Audiovisual Arts of the Jagiellonian University. She curates her own series of film meetings, Cinema in the Cultural Melting Pot (Kino w tyglu kultur), and leads Philosophical Meetings (Spotkania filozoficzne) in cooperation with Gutek Film and the magazine Filozofuj. Her research interests revolve around contemporary artistic cinema, postsecularism, anthropology of film and cognitive psychology. In her work, she deals with the migration of terms to film studies theory. She has authored more than a dozen of articles in the field of film studies and religious studies. ORCID 0000-0003-4278-2699.

Witold Stok BSC – cinematographer and director of documentary films, co-creator of several dozen films made in Poland and Great Britain. The cinematographer for such films as Refrain (1972), The Bricklayer (1973), Personnel (1975), From the Night Porter's Point of View (1977), Seven Women of Different Ages (1978) and The Railway Station (1980) by Krzysztof Kieślowski, Don't Cry (1972)) by Grzegorz Królikiewicz, Happy end (1973), Front Collision (1975), The Touch (1978) and Matriculation (1979) by Marcel Łoziński, Excuse Me, Is It Here They Beat Up People? (1976) by Marek Piwowski, The Grave Case of Charlie Chaplin (1994) and The Stringer (1998) by Paweł Pawlikowski, as well as Mall Girls (2009) by Katarzyna Rosłaniec and Filip Bajon's Maiden Vows (2010). He is the author of such documentaries as Time Falls (1977), Saints Don't Want to Talk to Me (1978), Sonderzug - Special Train (1978), One of Us (1979), Prayer (1981), A Film About Grandma (1982).

Beata Waligórska-Olejniczak – a University Professor and the head of the Department of Comparative Studies in Literature and Culture at the Institute of Russian and Ukrainian Philology at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznan. She is the (co)author of 4 monographs (in Polish): “Contemporary Russian cinema in the light of war traumas. Literary and cultural context” (2020); “New Russian cinema in view of literary and film tradition” (2017); “Sacrum on the way. Venedict Erofeev’s Moscow-Petushki and Quentin Tarantino’s Pulp Fiction from the angle of montage reading” (2013); “Theatrical gesture in A.P. Chekhov’s drama the Seagull and free dance as the aesthetic context of the Great Theatre Reform” (2009). She is a member of the Executive Committee of European Society of Comparative Literature and editor-in-chief of “Studia Rossica Posnaniensia”. In her research, she focuses mainly on contemporary Russian cinema, as well as on modern and postmodern literature in Russia. ORCID 0000-0002-0433-9920.

Piotr Zawojcki – prof. dr hab., Institute of Culture Studies, University of Silesia in Katowice. He also work at Faculty of Intermedia, Academy of Fine Arts in Krakow. His research interest focus on the theory of photography, film and cinema, new media and new media arts, cyberculture and technokulture. His book’s publications includes Elektroniczne obrazowości. Między sztuką a technologią (2000); Wielkie filmy przełomu wieków. Subiektywny przewodnik (2007); Cyberkultura. Syntopia sztuki, nauki i technologii (2010, II edition 2018); Sztuka obrazu i obrazowania w epoce nowych mediów (2012); Technokultura i jej manifestacje artystyczne. Medialny świat hybryd i hybrydyzacji (2016) and Ruchome obrazy zatrzymane w pamięci. Reminiscencje teoretyczne i krytyczne (2017). He is a chief of Film and Media section at polish cultural quarterly “Opcje”. Member of The Committee on Cultural Studies of the Polish Academy of Sciences. ORCID 0000-0003-2291-0446.