

Notes about authors

Larysa Briukhovetska – film critic, editor-in-chief of “Kino-Theater” magazine, senior lecturer at the Department of Cultural Studies at the National University of Kyiv-Mohyla Academy, head of the Center for Cinematic Studies at NaUKMA, member of the Board of the National Union of Cinematographers of Ukraine, author of 20 monographs and numerous articles on cinema, editor of 20 collections of articles. <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-2391-2144>.

Grażyna Gajewska – professor of literary studies at the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts (Faculty of Polish and Classical Philology), AMU. Author of the monographs: Maski dziejopisarstwa. Współczesne formy re-prezentacji przeszłości (2002), Arcy-nie-ludzkie. Przez science fiction do antropologii cyborgów (2010), Erotyka sztucznych ciał (2016), Eroticism of More- and Other-than-Human Bodies (2020). <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-5293-6757>.

Barbara Lena Gierszewska – professor at Jan Kochanowski University in Kielce with a habilitation degree, a literary scholar and film expert. She specializes in the history of cinema, film literature and visual culture. In her free time, she explores the literature and culture of Lviv in the first half of the 20th century. The author of the books: Czasopiśmiennictwo filmowe w Polsce do 1939 roku [Film magazines in Poland until 1939] (1995), Kino i film we Lwowie do 1939 roku [Cinema and Film in Lviv until 1939] (2006), 3 історії культури кіно у Львові у 1918–1939 pp. (2004) and an anthology of texts: Mniskówna i co dalej... w polskim kinie [Mniskówna and What's Next... in Polish Cinema] (2001), Polski film fabularny 1918–1939. Recenzje [Polish Feature Film 1918–1939. Reviews] (2012), Od “Sodomy i Gomory” do “Pépé le Moko”. Film zachodnioeuropejski w polskiej prasie 1918–1939. Recenzje [From “Sodom and Gomorrah” to “Pépé le Moko”. Western European Film in the Polish Press 1918–1939. Reviews] (2013). <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-3485-1319>.

Marek Hendrykowski – full professor at the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts at Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań. A film and media expert, semiotician, researcher of contemporary culture. He is the author of numerous articles and books, most recently: Semiotyka twarzy [Semiotics of Face] (2017), Polska szkoła filmowa [Polish Film School] (2018), Short. Małe formy filmowe [Short. Small Film Forms] (2019), Narracja w filmie i ruchomych obrazach [Narrative in Films and Moving Images] (2019). Marek Hendrykowski is a founder and senior editor of the magazine “Images. The International Journal of Film, Performing Arts and Audiovisual Culture”. He is also a member of the Polish Filmmakers Association, Polish Society of Authors and Composers ZAiKS, the Polish Film Academy and the European Film Academy. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-7180-9902>.

Anna Huth – PhD, Director of the Institute of Film and Theatre Arts, Kieślowski Film School of the University of Silesia in Katowice. Her scientific interests include the social impact of film distribution, impact campaigns and the market of documentary film festivals. She has implemented and led projects such as the international research project “Junge und neue Medien. Der Einfluss des sozioökonomischen Status auf die Nutzung neuer Medien durch Jugendliche in Polen und in Deutschland” in cooperation with the Faculty of Applied Social Sciences, Fachhochschule Erfurt, Germany. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0950-7567>.

Agata Jankowska – PhD in history, graduate of Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań and Szczecin University. Scholarship holder of the GEOP program at the Museum of the History of Polish Jews POLIN, winner of the Majer Balaban competition for the best doctoral thesis on Jews and Israel (2022). <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-7884-7477>.

Krzysztof Kornacki – associate professor at the Institute of Cultural Research, Film and Media Division, University of Gdańsk. Specializes in the history of Polish cinema, and is the author or editor of books such as Kino polskie wobec katolicyzmu (1945–1970), (2004), Popiół i diament Andrzeja Wajdy, (2011), Poszukiwanie i degradowanie sacrum w kinie (ed.), (2002), Sacrum w kinie: dekadę później, (2013), scientific editor of “SCRIPT. Zeszyty Gdyńskiej Szkoły Filmowej”. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-1246-2275>.

Liubov Krupnyk – Leading Specialist at the Department of Policy Making of the Ukrainian Institute of National Remembrance (Kyiv). PHD in history at Ivan Franko Lviv National University (2003). Doctoral dissertation title: The State Politics Regarding the Ukrainian Professional Arts, 1965–1985. She has authored nearly one hundred scientific publications on the history of Ukraine and Eastern Europe in the second half of the 20th century. <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-6522-3350>.

Serhiy Marchenko – associate professor, and holder of PhD in art studies (specialisation – film art, television), film director, film critic. He is the author of non-fiction films, scripts, research publications, and documentary photographs for scientific and journalistic publications. He has taught professional disciplines at the Ivan Karpenko-Karyi Institute of Screen Arts of Kyiv National University of Theater, Cinema, and Television for over twenty years. His fields of scientific interest: film theory, film language, non-fiction film, film dramaturgy, film directing, cinematography, and national policy in Ukrainian cinema. He is a member of the National Union of Cinematographers of Ukraine, and a member of the Sectoral Expert Council on Culture and Art (audiovisual art) of the National Agency for the Quality of Higher Education. <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-3580-6410>.

Tetiana Mychajłowa – PhD, literary scholar, junior researcher at the Department of Foreign and Slavic Literatures of the Taras Shevchenko Institute of Literature, National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine. Scientific interests: the works of the Ukrainian poet Wasył Stus in the context of Russian and Polish literatures, comparative research, translation of poetry. Author of the monograph “A deep source of memory”: Vasyl Stus and the rethinking of Russian literature (2023). <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-7857-582X>.

Larysa Naumova – PhD in the Department of 19th-21st-Century Art in the Institute of Art History (IAH) of the Czech Academy of Sciences (CAS) and in the Institute of Screen Arts of the Kyiv National I.K. Karpenko-Kary Theatre, Cinema and Television University. Since 2016, she has been collaborating with the popular magazine “Kino-Theatre” (Ukraine). Author of more than 100 scientific and popular science publications on the following topics: Ukrainian cinema of 1920–1930, Ukrainian school of screen directing, theory of Ukrainian cinema, world cinematic process, etc. Her articles have been published in scientific journals in Ukraine, Germany, Poland, and Georgia. <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-7634-0923>.

Halyna Pohrebniak – PhD in art history, professor of the Larysa Khorolevs Department of Directing and Acting at the National Academy of Management of Culture and Arts, Deputy Director for Research at the Institute of Contemporary Art (Kyiv, Ukraine), film critic. She is interested in the moral, ethical, artistic and aesthetic problems of contemporary screen arts, visual and expressive means and individual styles of film d’auteur, the work of prominent figures. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-8846-4939>.

Olena Rosinska – PhD. Her scientific interests encompass the analysis of documentary and feature films, media psychology and media sociology. List of publications: Models of Stereotypization of National Characteristics, Gender Roles and Behavioral Scenarios in Series (the example of the Polish Series “The Girls From Lviv” and “The Londoners”), “Synopsis: Text, Context, Media” 2022, no. 28(3); Portraits of Parents in Youth Series: A Narrative of Opposition (2022, accepted for publication); Narratives of Polish-Ukrainian interaction in Polish documentaries, “Obraz” 2022, no. 3(40); Internal Migration: Contribution of Media and the Horizons of Audience’s Information Expectations. (with O. Zhuravska, accepted for publication in a collective monograph); Stereotyped Media Images as a Method of Forming Delusions of Ordinary Consciousness, “International Journal of Recent Technology and Engineering (IJRTE)” 2019, no. 9(2) (with O. Zhuravska, V. Gandziuk); Gender Discrimination in the Media of Eastern Europe: A Historical and Comparative Aspect, “Rupkatha Journal on Interdisciplinary Studies in Humanities” 2021, no. 1(13) (with O. Khamedova, O. Zhuravska, V. Gandziuk); Researching the Aspects of Interaction Between Educators and Students in the Distance Learning System, “Journal of Information Technologies in Education (ITE)” 2021, no. 45 (with H. Horbenko, O. Zhuravska). <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4460-0668>.

Roman Rosliak – film critic. Conducts research in the Department of Screen-Stage Arts and Cultural Studies at M. Rylskiy Institute of Art Studies, Folkloristics and Ethnology of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine; cultural theorist and historian. Author of more than one hundred scientific publications on the history of Ukrainian cinema. Scientific interests: state policy in the field of Ukrainian cinema, cinema education, repression among Ukrainian cinematographers, Alexander Dovzhenko’s art. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-5432-2895>.

Yuri Shevchuk – PhD, linguist, political scientist, and lexicographer. He teaches courses in the Ukrainian language, Ukrainian film history, and Soviet and post-Soviet film at Columbia University in New York. He writes on issues of language, film, and identity. He authored Beginner’s Ukrainian, a popular Ukrainian language textbook for college students and self-learners.

Bohdan Shumlyovych – Associate Professor of Cultural Studies at the Ukrainian Catholic University (Lviv, Ukraine). Obtained an MA in modern history from the Central European University and PhD in history from the European University Institute in Florence. He works at the Center for Urban History. The main focus of his work is media history in Eastern and Central Europe and the Soviet Union, as well as media arts, visual studies, urban spatial practices, and urban creativity. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-7221-7001>.

Wojciech Sławnikowski – a student of Film Studies and Philosophy and a graduate of Polish Philology at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. <https://orcid.org/0009-0001-5963-6148>.

Witold Stok BSC – cinematographer and director of documentary films, co-creator of several dozen films made in Poland and Great Britain. The cinematographer for such films as Refrain (1972), The Bricklayer (1973), Personnel (1975), From the Night Porter’s Point of View (1977), Seven Women of Different Ages (1978) and The Railway Station (1980) by Krzysztof Kieślowski, Don’t Cry (1972) by Grzegorz Królikiewicz, Happy end (1973), Front Collision (1975), The Touch (1978) and Matriculation (1979) by Marcel Łoziński, Excuse Me, Is It Here They Beat Up People? (1976) by Marek Piwowski, In Broad Daylight (1980) by Edward Żebrowski, The Grave Case of Charlie Chaplin (1994) and The Stringer (1998) by Paweł Pawlikowski, as well as Mall Girls (2009) by Katarzyna Roslaniec and Filip Bajon’s Maiden Vows (2010). He is the author of such documentaries as Time Falls (1977), Saints Don’t Want to Talk to Me (1978), Sonderzug – Special Train (1978), One of Us (1979), Prayer (1981), A Film About Grandma (1982). <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4984-117X>.

Andrzej Szpulak – professor in the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts at the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań, a scholar in-terested in Polish film history, religious and historical film. Major publications: Poetyka filmów śląskich Kazimierza Kutza (2003), Kino wśród mitów: o filmach śląskich Kazimierza Kutza (2004), Filmy Wojciecha Marczewskiego (2009), Róża (2016). <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-9332-9291>.

Marta Tymińska – PhD in cultural and religious studies; her research focuses mainly on videogames, new media and cross-cultural relationships; currently co-operating in the area of research on modern Ukrainian culture; she has a MA in psychology (major in cross-cultural psychology), currently works as an assistant professor in the Institute of Cultural Research (Gdansk Film Studies). <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-1457-1141>.

Barbora Vinczeová – lecturer at Matej Bel University. She teaches American literature and English grammar. Her research focuses on translation criticism, literary analysis and fantastic fiction. She is a professional translator and has translated several novels from English into Slovak. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-3411-6699>.

Joanna Wojnicka – PhD, associate professor at the Audiovisual Arts Institute Jagiellonian

University in Kraków. She deals with the history of European cinema, including Russian and Soviet cinema, as well with the links between cinema and other arts, primarily literature and theatre. Author of the following books: Świat umierający. O późnej twórczości Luchino Viscontiego [The Dying World. On Luchino Visconti's Late Oeuvre] (2001), Słownik wiedzy o filmie [Dictionary of Film Knowledge] (with Olga Katafiasz, 2005, 2009), Dzieci XX Zjazdu. Film w kulturze sowieckiej lat 1956–1968 [Children of the 20th Congress. Film in Soviet Culture in 1956–1968] (2012), Historia filmu. Od Edisona do Nolana [The History of Film. From Edison to Nolan] (with Rafał Syska, 2015), Prorocy, kapłani rewolucjoniści. Szkice z historii kina rosyjskiego [Prophet, Priest, Revolutionaries. Sketches on the History of Russian cinema] (2019). Editor (with Grażyna Stachówna) of the volume Autorzy kina europejskiego [Authors of European Cinema] (2003) and Autorzy kina polskiego [Authors of Polish Cinema] (2004). She edited the book Od Puszkina do Brodskiego. Adaptacje literatury rosyjskiej [From Pushkin to Brodsky. Adaptations of Russian Literature] (2017). She has published numerous articles in magazines and collective books. <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-0125-8866>.