

Notes about authors

Stanisław Bitka – PhD, assistant professor at the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. His research interests include the relationship between music and film, particularly in music documentaries, as well as Iranian cinema. He has published in journals such as “Przestrzenie Teorii” and “Kultura Popularna”. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-3824-310X>

Barbara Głębicka-Giza – PhD, professor at the Institute of Social Communication and Media Studies at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University (UMCS) in Lublin, and Deputy Head of the Scientific Library of the National Film Archive – Audiovisual Institute (FINA). She is a film and media scholar specializing in the study of film and audiovisual archives, with a research focus on the social and cultural dimensions of cinema, film writing, the interrelations between film and literature, and the role of film in social communication. Professor Głębicka-Giza is the author of numerous books and scholarly articles, including studies on the film writings of Tadeusz Konwicki and Jerzy Stefan Stawiński. She is co-editor of source-oriented scholarly volumes such as Archives in Contemporary Film Studies (2021, co-edited with P. Zwierzchowski and K. Mąka-Malatyńska) and Source Contexts in Film Research (2022, with B. Gierszewska and M. Bator), as well as the academic editor of The Centennial of the Generation of the Columbus (2022). Together with P. Zwierzchowski, she serves as scholarly editor and contributor to the series Polish Film Critics, which includes volumes on Konrad Eberhardt (2013), Aleksander Jackiewicz (2015), Krzysztof Mętrak (2019), Maria Kornatowska (2020), Jerzy Płażewski (2022), and Krzysztof Teodor Toeplitz (2024). She is also co-editor (with A. Wyżyński) of the source-critical series Film Congresses and Conferences in the People's Republic of Poland (PRL), the first volume of which is titled The Film Con- gress in Wiśla, 1949: Sources – Commentaries – Studies (2024). <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-2207-0662>

Anna Igielska – PhD, assistant professor at the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts, Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. Author of the monograph Traditions of Opera, Traditions of Art. Madness and pathos in the stage works of Georg Friedrich Handel (2012), and co-editor (with K. Lisiecka) of the volume German Studies in Music and Drama. An Anthology of Translations into Polish (2015). Main research areas: film art of the 1960s and 1970s, film dramaturgy with a special focus on music, film and aesthetics, media history. Recent articles concern the works of Luchin Visconti, Valeria Zurlini, Ingmar Bergman, Werner Herzog, Terrence Malick. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-5496-6586>

Artur Kamczycki – associate professor at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań, Poland. He obtained the title of habilitated doctor in the field of humanities at the Faculty of History of the University of Warsaw (2016). He completed his doctoral studies at the Institute of Art History, Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań (2009). He was a two-time scholarship holder at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem (2002/2003 and 2007/2008). He has published two books: Syjonizm i sztuka. Ikonografia Theodora Herzla [Zionism and Art. The Iconography of Theodor Herzl] and Muzeum Daniela Libeskinda w Berlinie. Żydowski kontekst architektury [Daniel Libeskind's Museum in Berlin. The Jewish Context of Architecture]. He has published in such journals as “Studia Judaica”, “Studia Orientalia”, “Artium Quaestiones”, “Studia Europaea Gnesnensis”. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-4471-9020>

Magdalena Maciudzińska-Kamczycka – PhD, assistant professor at the Department of the History of 20th-Century Art in Central Europe and in Exile, Faculty of Fine Art, Nicolaus Copernicus University in Toruń. She mainly deals with the representation of Judaism in art, feminism and women's art, as well as the issue of the landscape. Her research interests include the problem of the biographies of female artists entangled in difficult identity processes strongly related to Jewish origins and geopolitics of contemporary Israel. Author of the monograph Jews and Judaism in the Mirror of Ancient Art (2014), co-editor of two volumes (Un)Wanted Identity (2016, 2023) and the publication Hybridity in Graphics. Medium in Search of Its Time and Meaning (2020). <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-0498-3377>

Michał Mróz – PhD, student in the Doctoral School of Linguistics and Literature at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. A specialist in game studies and film studies, his research interests focus on issues related to the narrativity of video games, space, violence in digital games, and occasionally phenomena of internet culture. He is currently developing research on digital open-world RPGs, describing their poetics. <https://orcid.org/0009-0005-4116-5834>

Wojciech Otto – PhD, professor at the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. Author of books: Literature and Film in the Polish Culture of the Interwar Period (2007), Images of Disability in Polish Film (2012), and the monograph Zdzisław Maklakiewicz (2008). Editor and co-editor of collective works: The Polish Film School. Reinterpretations and References (2019), The Paper Bridge: Contemporary Theatre and Film Interconnections Between Japan and The West (2021), and Frozen in the Frame. Shots – Words – Photographs (2023). Editor of monographic issues of the journal "Images": Microcosm (2012), Actor, Acting (2016), Parallels between Movies and Architecture (2017), Spaces in Film (2020). He teaches film history, film studies, scriptwriting and the relationship between film and other arts. He is a co-author of a nationwide educational project "School Film Library", a juror at film and screenwriting festivals, a youth jury supervisor at the Film Debut Festival "The Youth and the Film" in Koszalin and co-organizer of the European Film Festival "Integration You and Me" in Koszalin. <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-1172-0989>

Maciej Pietrzak – film scholar, assistant professor at the Institute of Film, Media, and Audiovisual Arts at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. Research interests focus primarily on cinematic manifestations of cultural memory and transnational film exchange. Author of the monograph Koniec złudzeń. Film wobec Marca '68 [The End of Illusions: Film and March '68] (2025). Currently leading a research project on the distribution of Polish films in Israel. <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-7301-425X>

Joanna Pigulak – PhD, assistant professor at the Institute of Film, Media, and Audiovisual Arts at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań, Poland. She co-founded game studies at AMU and is the author of Filmplaying: Relationships Between Film and Video Games (Cracow, 2022). For some time now, she has been exploring the issue of game inclusivity, with particular emphasis on their accessibility for people with disabilities. In addition to her research, she is a media educator and an advocate for digital game education. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-1345-3979>

Patrycja Rojek – PhD, assistant professor at the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts, Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. Film scholar. Her research focuses on the function of myth in film, the aesthetics of the film image, and American and New Zealand cinema. She has published in journals such as "Przestrzenie Teorii" and "Polonistyka – Innowacje." She is the author of a doctoral dissertation on the mythological hero in the films of Christopher Nolan. <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4301-080X>

Adrianna Woroch – PhD, assistant professor at the Institute of Film, Media and Audiovisual Arts, film expert, deals with film theory, contemporary European and American artistic and genre cinema. Author of the monograph Kitsch and beauty in the works of Paolo Sorrentino, she recently published the book It's just a trick: On cinema's self-awareness and disillusionment techniques in contemporary films. She is currently working on the issue of elevated genre, examining their sources in the genre cinema of previous decades, analyzing the elements of arthouse cinema contained in these films, and at the same time taking into account their entertainment value. <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4237-3756>