

Members of the Scientific Committee of “Poznańskie Studia Slawistyczne”

Katica Ivanković is a full professor of comparative literature and Czech studies at the Faculty of Arts at the Zagreb University. Her scientific interests concern the history of Czech literature, as well as comparative studies of Croatian and Czech literature. She is also involved in literary translation. Prof. Ivanković is a member of the Croatian Philological Society, the Society of Croatian Literary Translations, and the Consortium for Creating Information Sources of World Literary Czech Studies, the Institute for Czech Literature of the Czech Academy of Sciences.

For the complete bibliography, see:

<https://www.bib.irb.hr/pregled/znanstvenici/154795?autor=154795>.