

Members of the Scientific Committee of “Poznańskie Studia Slawistyczne”

Urszula Kowalska-Nadolna is an assistant professor in the Institute of Slavic Philology at the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. Her main research interests include Czech contemporary literature, Prague Spring and its impact on the Czech culture, literature, history and national identity. She also examines the problems related to the Czech post-1968 emigration, literature and politics, historical memory and popular culture. Dr. Kowalska-Nadolna is an authoress of two monographs and a number of scientific articles. Since 2014, she has been cooperating in the international projects on the Central European Holocaust literature. Since 2015, she has been a member of the Polish-Czech Science Society. In the years 2015-2019, she was a member of the Slavic Committee at the Polish Academy of Sciences (Poznań department).

For the selected bibliography, see: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-7495-9236>.