

Regarding ethical research standards

Werkwinkel: Journal of Low Countries and South African Studies publishes articles which comply with the best standards of academic research. In this regard, the Editorial Board requires and maintains standards of transparency regarding academic research. As such, all necessary information regarding authorship or co-authorship and support are to be declared upon submission.